THE RICHMOND CABINET COMPANY ADDS NEW STYLISH DOORS TO ITS KITCHEN RANGE

The Richmond Cabinet Company has extended its choice of kitchens for the social housing market with the addition of an extensive range of striking doors:

Each of the new doors is available in either a 15 mm carcass or the new 18 mm carcass option, thereby providing durable construction whilst ensuring quality materials in both classic and modern designs. Richmond's kitchens are produced to the highest quality standards. The durability and quality of the kitchens is an important criteria for long-term contracts.

The new range is accessible in four clearly defined price groups – Classic, Moorland, Bowland and Lakeland - allowing specifiers to select the optimum kitchen solution. Tenants will benefit from these groups as they can now be offered a wide range of design options.

Moorland is a range of quality MFC doors and is available in various finishes and wood grains: Crystal Maple, Ferrara Oak, Cappuccino, Aluminum and Natural Cream. These simple doors provide extremely modern looking kitchens and bring real depth and style to the kitchen.

Bowland is a versatile group of vinyl doors in various styles and finishes that can be used to create both modern and traditional kitchens: Linen White, Ivory, Boston Linen White and Vanilla. These doors provide inspirational kitchen design and a wide selection of choice.

Lakeland is an elite range of traditional shaker doors available in the most popular colours and wood grain finishes. Options include Walnut, Crystal Maple, Ferrara Oak and Linen White.

Commenting on the new range Ian Hodge, Richmond's Managing Director, said: "Moorland, Bowland and Lakeland are all versatile and stylish designs, further expanding our choice of kitchens for the social housing market. They are also extremely durable kitchens, designed for resilience and long life. We believe they offer superior choice, both in terms of design and pricing.
